Council of the Month: Mountain View High School

Our council of the month for May is Mountain View! Mountain View has done countless activities that set them apart in the state, which makes me so excited to name them council of the month for WASC. Over the summer this council volunteered at their town's 50th anniversary party serving dinner and dessert. This truly showcases dedication to their community. Another way they were able to stand out was in their Make-A-Wish fundraiser: one committed student council member agreed to let his hair get cut off if the school met a $1,000 fundraising goal. The goal was met, and the hair was cut. Thank you so much for the great idea and encouragement to promote Make-A-Wish in the state of Wyoming. The last way that Mountain View has shown they are a stand out council was through one of WASC's initiatives. Their student council advisor Collette Bugas said, "One of our WASC initiatives was to spread more kindness and positivity around our school districts. To promote this idea, MVHS council members decided to do what we call, "Random Acts Bingo." All MVHS students were given a bingo card with various Random Acts of Kindness spaces. If a bingo was completed (with a teacher signature), they were then able to turn it in and be entered into a drawing for various prizes. Some students went above and beyond and completed a blackout on their card, meaning they completed their ENTIRE card. This promoted kindness and positivity all around our school in a way that everyone could participate in, and was very fun!" All these different fundraising and community service projects are great ways to get involved. I'm so proud of the effort. The Mountain view put in to all the council activities this year, and the kindness bingo is an awesome idea for the kindness initiative!
